Don’t call me — just be there.

Combat Graffiti

July 7, 2024

Yes Folks it's true.

Combat Graffiti is alive and well. One of the usual control-line problems is where to have the contest. We used to hold the original vintage Combat contest at Vancouver B.C. on Rice Mill Road. Due to some objections to the use of the field, we have been invited to the annual Mission Wings club fun fly. The venue is without a doubt the most beautiful site I have seen. The natural beauty is breathtaking. Mountains, eagles, a field that rivals most golf course greens. It is not to be missed just for this alone.

Time takes its toll

At one time, (2012) Combat G had, and still does, a set of rules, complete with static scale judging for points. This combined with the flying points determine the winner. There is just one flyer who wins the perpetual silver loving cup. (champagne bucket). After a sound thumping I gave Greg Davis a year ago (1 cut to 0), I hold the award. It will be polished and ready for a new winner. The event has relaxed quite a bit and is more of a fun fly nowadays. No drawing of names, just a round-robin sort of affair. Pre-1964 models, any fuel system, 75 mph speed limit. The nicer the model, the more the points. Kills disqualify the killer from the match. Maximum three cuts.

An added fun item is informal Vintage Diesel Combat (D-Bat)

Where to go????

Nothing is without its problems. The venue is a bit remote. I do not have directions, but with the use of GPS, you will be able to find the farm that the field is on.

ADDRESS IS:
10279 FARMS ROAD
MISSION B.C.

No entry fee is required, but if coming from the U.S. a temporary MAAC license will be required.

So bring your vintage Combat ship and have a good time.
